Now is an exciting time for the arts in Pinellas County. Whether you grew up here or are new to the community, it is impossible to miss the explosion of arts and culture that has added zest to the quality of life and fuel to our economic engine.

From heavy-hitters like the Salvador Dali Museum to effervescent home-grown ventures like the SHINE Mural Festival, arts and culture in Pinellas County is experiencing unrivaled creative and economic growth. So too is Creative Pinellas as we chart our path for a future as vibrant and forward-thinking as the community we serve.

This strategic plan is an outgrowth of two years of feet-on-the-ground work by Creative Pinellas, crowned by the completion of our keystone Regional Arts Summit and Regional Arts Dialogue Report (RADR) in 2018. In fulfilling the RADR project we connected with thousands of Pinellas County residents and visitors over three questions:

- What do you like about Pinellas County's arts and cultural life?
- What would make it better? That is, what might bring us to the next level?
- How do we get there?

In the process we explored our voice together as an arts and cultural community, identified the shared themes that unite us, discovered the various streams that connect us and uncovered the evolutionary strategies that will transform us.

Our plan summarizes and makes actionable the results that we discovered. It looks at how arts and cultural resources can be leveraged to produce greater economic impact, enrich visitor experience and deliver a higher quality of life for county residents, businesses, and the artists and arts organizations who call this community home.

The strategies and objectives outlined in this plan are our road map, guiding our decisions and informing the programs we launch and the opportunities we create over time. The Board and staff of Creative Pinellas are committed to carrying out this strategic plan, to serving the arts and cultural community and to enhancing the lives of our 900,000 residents and the millions of tourists who visit every year.

Thank you to everyone who generously participated with us in gathering this information and generating ideas and insights for this plan. We are grateful for your contributions.

Sincerely,

Barbara St. Clair  Lauren Davenport
Executive Director  President of the Board

Who We Are

Creative Pinellas is the Local Arts Agency for Pinellas County. In partnership with the Board of County Commissioners and Visit St. Petersburg/Clearwater, we support arts and cultural programs for the benefit of all residents and visitors to Pinellas County. Additionally, we promote the powerful story of our success as an arts and cultural destination—locally and worldwide.

What We Do

Cultural assets and activities create jobs, drive commerce and boost tourism. In 2015 (our most recent data year) the arts and cultural sector generated over $241 million in direct annual expenditures in Pinellas County, created over 7,200 jobs and produced $29.8 million in state and tax revenue according to the Arts and Economic Prosperity V economic report. In addition to economic impact, engagement with arts and culture also has great social value, from keeping teens out of the criminal justice system and helping our veterans to heal from PTSD, to training our children to be more creative problem solvers and bringing communities together. At Creative Pinellas we believe our job is to communicate this information effectively and to support, sustain and work to expand the arts and cultural activities that generate these stellar results.

Why We Matter

Our role in Pinellas County is to enable the arts to flourish and the arts community to thrive. Working in alignment with the Pinellas County Strategic Plan and with our arts, tourism and cultural partners, we work to create an environment that fosters continued economic growth and vitality, preserves and supports our cultural and historical assets, recognizes and provides opportunities to those in need and builds upon and provides first-class service to our artists, the arts and cultural community, our partners, our residents and our visitors and guests.
